The Restraint Reduction Network™
Preventing the Misuse and Abuse of Restrictive Practices

Conference Theme: Reducing Restraint Through Policy and Practice

CPI is holding its second Restraint Reduction Network™ conference in November 2015. Bringing together service providers, commissioners, regulators and campaign bodies, the conference seeks to address the issues faced across health, social care and education organisations as they work to provide a person-centred service that improves the quality of life of those in their care. It aims to answer some of the questions still being raised by the government's two-year 'Positive and Proactive Care' programme and looks to set an agenda for change which all organisations can follow. The conference content is designed for current members of the network, Certified Instructors and anyone in the education, health and social care sector who wishes to share good practice.

The week of the conference will also see CPI host a range of pre-conference training programmes.
